Stewardship: Choosing Service Over Self Interest: Block ...

"Stewardship," he writes, "means giving people at the bottom and the boundaries of the organization choice over how to serve a customer, a citizen, a community. It is the willingness to be accountable for the well-being of the larger organization by operating in service, rather than in control, of those around us."

Block's intentions in Stewardship are good, to provide a method for organizations to choose service over self-interest, but I found his assumptions remarkably narrow-minded. The ideals of his stewardship model call for a certain type of employee - a passionate, driven, and largely entrepreneurial employee.

Choose serving over self interest because this is in your best self interest. I agree with much of the thesis of the book although it is somewhat counter culture to our current culture at SYNEX (and perhaps more close to the EMJ culture, the company I started in 1979 and sold to SYNEX). A large part of my role at SYNEX is to help mould culture.
